HEARST'S "GODS" REUSE

Park Church Union Entertained at Osgood Memorial—Subject of Conference Was the Campaign for Millions—Addresses by Hartford and Willimantic Speakers.

The Norwich Christian Endeavor local union held its spring conference with the society of the Park Congregational church in Norwich on Saturday afternoon and evening in the Osgood Memorial building.

William G. Park of Hanover presided, and Rev. S. H. Howe, D. D., pastor of the church, conducted the devotional exercises. Philip Johnson, the president of the entertaining society, cordially welcomed the visitors.

The treasurer, Ozzie D. Manley of Boston, spoke of the increase in the union dues to 10 cents per member, and also that the April collection should be sent in now. Miss Helen Madole, chairman of the missionary committee, announced that there is to be a union missionary meeting at Norwich Town chapel on Sunday evening, May 14.

The campaign for millions, the subject of the conference, was the campaign for millions—Millions—Millions—Millions.

P. C. Bidwell of Hartford, an ex-president of the union, gave the first address in the afternoon. This was to be about the campaign for millions.

He said that the campaign for millions was a question of whether each individual's share in the work. Begin with the mobilization of the individual. Quality of service, leadership, obedience and wisdom can be developed on the moral battlefield.

Then mobilize money—industry, money, money, money. We should be willing as Christian Endeavorers to spend and be spent not only in time but in money. The campaign for millions is to have a vision for something higher than mere self gratification.

Advocates New Leaders.
L. A. Soper, ex-president of the Hartford union, gave the address of the evening. He said that the campaign for millions was a question of whether each individual's share in the work.
